MOBS UNCHECKED IN MEXICO CITY

Courier's Report of Looting Increases Washington's Anxiety for Americans.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Conditions in Mexico City, described as growing chaotic, loomed largest today in the official view of the complex Mexican situation. The situation in the Mexican capital made more dangerous for foreigners by the fact that the army in the suburbs, is causing Washington officials more worry than any other phase of conditions in the Southern republic. Mexico's newest revolution, said to have been started by the army, is being hampered by the fact that the army is causing Washington officials more worry than any other phase of conditions in the Southern republic. Ankle Bands Worn by English Girls Urge Youths to Join Army ENGLAND is literally plastered with posters, calling on the young men of the country to enlist in the army to fight the Germans. The latest of these devices are sets of white silk ankle bands which the girls are wearing. They are in pairs, the first bearing, in large letters, the plain demand, "Enlist today," and the second the appeal, "Is your conscience clear?" The short skirts, now so fashionable, are proving very adaptable to this form of advertising.

Bodies Haul From Trees and Telegraph Poles in Mexico.

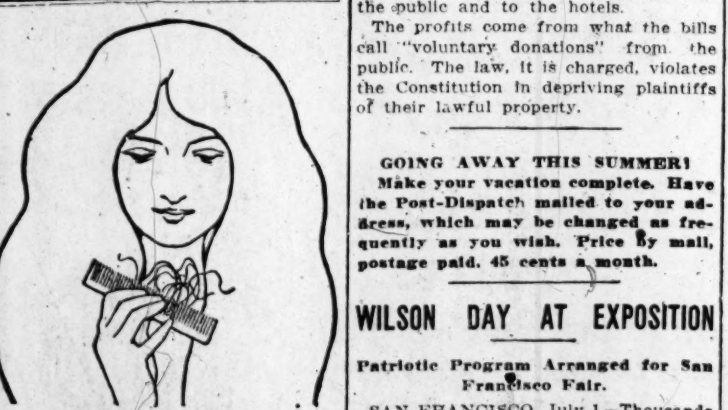

JALAPA, Mexico, June 28, by mail to New Orleans, July 1.—Bodies of men hanging from trees and telegraph poles, not in great numbers, but sufficiently conspicuous to make the landscape lurid, thousands of dead men and children crowded into freight cars or huddled besides railroad tracks, destroyed bridges, wrecked trains and entire villages, deserted or ruined, were observed today on a journey to Jalapa from Vera Cruz, 60 miles from the State Department. Zapata is said to have 25,000 men.

Mazatlan Water Plant Restored to American Owners. GUAYMAS, Mexico, July 1.—The waterworks at Mazatlan, principally financed by American capital, has been returned to its original owners by the Mexican authorities, according to word received here today. The property had been taken over by the local authorities without later proceedings. The return was accomplished through efforts of the Governor of Sinaloa.

No Chance for War, So Mexicans Strike for More Pay.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 1.—Armed men were sent from here today to Ray, a mining camp 120 miles distant where 1500 Mexicans are threatening trouble. All the Mexicans quit work at the mines of the Ray Consolidated Mining Company upon receipt of a publication from Vera Cruz containing a speech by a Carranza officer, who stated that Mexico would declare war on the United States. After receiving assurances that war was not imminent the Mexicans decided to strike for increased pay.

ROBERTS TOLD TO QUIT SPECULATING, FRANCIS & CO. SAY

Beverage Firm President Reckless in Deals, Reply to Suit for $15,505 Alleges.

An answer filed in Circuit Court to the $15,505 suit of E. Mason Roberts, president of the American Beverage Co., against the D. R. Francis & Co. Commission Co., which revealed that Roberts had lost large sums gambling on the cotton market through the Francis firm, declares that members of the firm tried to check Roberts' course of speculation.

Roberts had sued for the amount as due from a sum of money he said he had deposited with the brokerage house and on which he was to receive interest. In denying his charge, the defendants file a counter claim of $14,000.

Defendants Being Agent for Roberts. The reply denies that the Francis firm was, on Sept. 23, 1909, or at any other time, employed by Roberts as his confidential agent for the purchase and sale of cotton, and denies that he ever deposited any large sum of money with them. The defendant corporation, it is asserted, was simply brokers in the general market, handling staple commodities, including cotton. For its services, the Francis firm was to receive a commission of 1 percent on the sale of cotton, and a brokerage fee of 1 percent on the purchase of cotton.

Returning American Says Loaded Cars Plunged Into Canyon When Going at Full Speed.

LAREDO, Tex., July 1.—Three hundred Carranza soldiers and their wives and children were killed and several hundred injured in a wreck of a military train near Monte Moris, between Tampico and Monterrey, according to an American who arrived here today from the interior. The accident took place ten days ago, he said.

The American traveler's story was the first intimation here of the wreck, but this was attributed to the censorship, which has been extraordinarily strict recently. The train was heavily loaded and proceeding at full speed when it left the track, the American said, and tumbled into a small canyon.

The soldiers, with their wives and children and scores of women camp followers, were being sent from Tampico to Monterrey. The train was made up of box cars; men, women and children crowded inside and others on top, while many, as is a Mexican revolutionist custom, were slung under the box cars. The engineer, it was said, had been proceeding slowly, saying the track was in poor condition. Sometime before reaching Monterrey, it was said, the major in charge of the troops placed a pistol to the head of the engineer, demanding full speed. The engineer complied, and just before reaching Monterrey the train left the track.

Passengers and crew fell with the train into a small canyon and many were literally ground to death beneath the wreckage, the American declared. It was reported the major who gave the command for high speed was among the victims. None of the train crew was known to have escaped.

No further details or confirmation of the reported wreck could be obtained here today.

HOTEL CHECK ROOM MEN FIGHT ILLINOIS' NEW ANTI-TIPPING LAW

They Charge That Act Deprives Them of "Lawful Property" and Is Unconstitutional.

CHICAGO, July 1.—An attack on the anti-tipping law which goes into effect in Illinois today was made in the Circuit Court this afternoon by Jacques Roussio.

Roussio, who controls the check rooms of the hotel Morrison and, with Sam Wolf, those of the Hotel Sherman, filed suit, asking that the hotel's be restrained from ejecting him from the premises. The bill alleges that plaintiffs pay for the privileges, that they have money invested in the business and that the service is satisfactory to the public and to the hotels.

The profits come from what the bill calls "voluntary donations" from the public. The law, it is charged, violates the Constitution in depriving plaintiffs of their lawful property.

AUSTRIAN INDICTED FOR THREATENING PRESIDENT WILSON

Salesman Wrote Letter Demanding $300 Because He Couldn't Return to Country.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Federal grand jury today indicted Rudolf Malik, an Austrian salesman, arrested here last night, charging that in a letter dated June 22 to President Wilson he threatened the President with a political crime, should the President refuse to pay him $300.

The money, it was charged, was demanded as a penalty for Malik's inability to return to his family in Austria.

Malik, who has been in the country only 11 days, it is said, was charged with having devised and operated a scheme to defraud the President. The letter on which this charge was based was dated June 22 last and was mailed in this city the following day, addressed to the President in Washington. It was written in German, signed "Rud Malik," and gave the writer's address as the house on the upper East Side where Malik was arrested. The letter read in part:

"My finances are exhausted and I am here without any help. The Austrian Consul will not help me as he is in duty bound to do because his Government has called for this horrible war. The United States is also guilty of my misfortune. Through the delivery of war materials to the allies you are prolonging the war indefinitely. I, therefore, have the right to demand indemnity from your Government. This amounts to a sum of $300, which you will send to my address within a week at latest. Should this amount, however, not be placed within the time I will, without further ceremony, commit a political crime, for it is absolutely impossible for me to live longer in my critical situation."

Observe once more that it is my firm reason to give my knowledge (sic) no longer any rest. I must do something for my rescue. Should you deny me the indemnity asked for, then pray let me be immediately arrested, whereby you can still prevent the greatest misfortune."

The salutation to the letter was "Honored Mr. President."

TWO-CENT PASSENGER RATE IN ARKANSAS NOT TO BE RESTORED

State Railroad Commission to Take No Action in Regard to Frisco and Kansas City Southern.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 1.—The Arkansas Railroad Commission will make no effort to restore a 2-cent passenger rate on the St. Louis & San Francisco and the Kansas City Southern, which now charge 3 cents, it was announced here today, though the new freight tariffs, which were made effective by the commission yesterday in the Federal District Court.

The commission asked that the restraining order, which permitted the St. Louis & San Francisco to place its own tariff in effect, be modified to an extent that a court tariff would be operative. The Kansas City Southern had agreed to permit the decision to govern the disposition of its own case.

The hearing to enjoin perpetually the Arkansas Railroad Commission from putting into effect its own tariffs will be held in St. Louis in the Circuit Court of Appeals Dec. 11.

WED ELDEST SISTER, HIS ADVICE

Doctor in Address at San Francisco Fair Says She Has Most Characteristic Children are the product of 90-per-cent parents and the instruction given and the example set children by parents shape their lives.

Waterloo, Io., said yesterday at the third day of child welfare week, given by the United States Children's Bureau at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The oldest girl in the family, Dr. Clark said, "because younger children generally get waited on by their elders and therefore the oldest sister shoulders responsibility and responsibility makes for character."

Champ Clark

Never said anything better than this— "It seems to me that it is a self-evident fact that it would be a good thing for everybody to try to save money to provide against old age, accident and disease."

It is also self-evident that if you don't save now, while you are able to earn, you will not be prepared to meet those unexpected emergencies, Old Age, Accident and Disease, when they come knocking at your door. A little sacrifice, less waste and comfort later on.

WOMAN ARRESTED IN NEW SCHEME TO ROB APARTMENTS

Lillian Davis Said to Have Posed as Possible Tenant While Husband Looted Places.

Mrs. Lillian Davis, 25 years old, is under arrest here as a result of the working of a new scheme in robbing apartment houses. A Chicago detective arrived last night to take charge of her. Jewelry valued at $1000 said to have been pawned by her in St. Louis has been identified by the Chicago officer as a part of the loot alleged to have been obtained by the woman and her husband, George Davis, and another confederate, Frank Turner, who are under arrest in Chicago.

Davis and his wife, according to the police, visited expensive apartment houses, pretending to be looking for a place to lease. While Mrs. Davis was being shown through a suite, her husband would ransack another suite, the occupants of which were not in. When his wife rejoined him he would pass the plunder, usually jewelry, to her and she would carry it away in her handbag. When Davis was otherwise occupied, Mrs. Davis posed as the wife of Turner.

Davis and Turner were arrested a number of times on the streets, but but no stolen articles were found in their possession. Recently, it seems, Turner and Davis fell out. Davis was arrested and stolen articles are said to have been found at his home. Mrs. Davis denies that she or her husband have been implicated in any burglaries.

$1,500,000 PIERCE STOCK HAS NO MARKET VALUE—RICHARDS

Non-in-Law Testifies for Oil Magnate in Suit of Bank of Commerce.

Eben Richards of New York testified today in Judge Kinsey's court in the suit of the National Bank of Commerce against his father-in-law, H. Clay Pierce, millionaire oil magnate, that the $1,500,000 worth of stock for which the bank is suing has no market value. The stock consists of the entire issue of capital stock of the Nashville Terminal Co., amounting to 10,000 shares, which the bank asserts was pledged with it as additional security for a loan of $500,000 made to the Tennessee Construction Co., owner of the stock.

Richards, who was called as a witness for the defendant, is president of the Nashville Terminal Co. The terminal is operated by the Tennessee Central Railroad Co., the latter being in the hands of a receiver, and that the railroad is behind in rent to the terminal company. "About $25,000 due several months ago was expected to be paid today," Richards said. He said that the terminal property cost about $32,000 to build.

Richards declared he did not know until 1910 that the bank was claiming the terminal stock as additional security. At this time Pierce offered to surrender the stock if his attorney, Samuel W. Fordyce Jr., after investigation found he was morally obligated to do so, the witness said. The attorney made such investigation and gave it as his opinion Pierce was rightfully in possession of the property, Richards said.

CHILD TAKEN FROM MOTHER WHO LEFT IT ALONE IN HOME

Woman With Four-Months-Old Baby Went Out at Night to Work in Alton Factory.

Mrs. Sophia Demuth, Alton Police Matron, has ruled that a mother may not leave her infant child at home alone and go out to work and accordingly has taken from Mrs. Dan Charley her 4-months-old baby.

Mrs. Charley's husband recently left her, taking two of the children. She was deprived of a third by the Police Matron and begged to be allowed to keep the fourth. When Mrs. Demuth learned that the mother was going to leave the home and went out at night to work at the Western Cartridge Factory, she notified her that she would take the fourth child, also.

THAW'S WIFE SAYS SHE WON'T TESTIFY IN SANITY TRIAL

Tells Process Server She Can't Undergo Examination on Account of Health.

MALONE, N. Y., July 1.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has refused to honor the subpoena served on her yesterday summoning her to New York to testify at the jury proceedings to determine the sanity of her husband, Harry K. Thaw.

Mrs. Thaw, it became known today, told William J. McGuire, the State process server, that she was in poor health and feared for her life should she be compelled to undergo the ordeal on the witness stand to which she thought she would be subjected in cross-examination by Thaw's counsel.

She said that she would furnish a doctor's certificate if required to do so by the court.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Transcripts of the testimony given in Harry K. Thaw's two trials for killing Stanford White to prove that he was insane when in the possession of the State's attorney today and preparations had been made to read liberal extracts in his sanity trial, now in progress. Reading of the evidence given by Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, his mother, in the second trial, was continued today.

More of the records of Thaw's life at the Matteawan asylum also were introduced.

Former Gov. George M. Sloan of Georgia, who recently committed the death sentence of Leo M. Frank to life imprisonment, occupied a seat on the bench beside Justice Hendrick today. It was announced today that if Evelyn Nesbit Thaw refused to obey the subpoena summoning her to testify as a State's witness at the trial, as reported from Malone, N. Y., the Attorney-General's office will apply to the Court for a body writ of attachment to compel her attendance. Her excuse that the strain of appearing on the stand would endanger her health will not be considered, it was said, unless put forward in a legal manner.

FRENCH MINISTRY DENIES USING AMERICAN SHELLS

Charge Was Made in Interview Given by Bavarian Crown Prince.

PARIS, July 1.—With reference to an interview published in the United States in which Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria was quoted as saying that 50 per cent of the shells used by the French were manufactured in the United States, the Ministry of War made the following press the following official statement: "Neither now nor at any time has the beginning of the war has any artillery made use of any shells manufactured in the United States."

French Embassy Declares Count Never Bought American Shells. WASHINGTON, July 1.—In connection of statements that American shells have been used to a large extent by the French was contained in a statement issued today by the French Embassy. It follows:

"Statements have appeared in the press from time to time describing use by the French of American shells and the killing of German soldiers such American ammunition, said to be vastly more destructive than that in France. It has been added of that the mortalities thus caused in French were using 'poisonous American shells' made by a certain company, Cleveland, O., in such a way that many cases even slight wounds resulted in terrible infection, causing death."

"One of the German Princes asked, 'What was the percentage of shells by the French?' In the great drive of Arras, in the course of which French captured the Labyrinth, some other important positions, royal highness vouchsafed the opinion that it is rather difficult to estimate accurately, but he thought the least 50 per cent were American shells. This last French statement would not have been possible without American ammunition."

"In view of such frequently repeated assertions, it cannot be amiss to state for all that France has bought shells of any sort in the United States since the beginning of the war."

SUIT FILED BY MRS. O. H. SNELL RECALLS MYSTERIOUS TRAIL

In a separate maintenance suit Mrs. O. H. Snell in Kansas today there is an echo of a mystery tragedy in which two young women, their lives in St. Louis nearly 10 years ago.

In her petition Mrs. Snell says that a young woman killed herself in an attempt in St. Louis which had been a tragedy furnished by Snell. She for her husband and lived in comparative happiness until he told her of purging silk hose for a woman. Then she learned of other women whom he was friendly. Inquiry showed Snell, a wealthy landowner of Mo. Mo., had been paying the expense the flat.

An autopsy showed that the women were killed by carbon monoxide or carbon dioxide, poisons formed in a gas range and a gas exhausted the oxygen in the air kitchen.

FOODSTUFFS LEAD
IN BILLION DOLLAR
TRADE BALANCE

Officials Say Totals in Favor of U. S. Probably Will Exceed That Amount.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A trade balance of $1,000,000,000 in favor of this country was officially announced last night at the close of the government's financial year. This balance is the greatest in American history and comes in a year which has seen commerce depressed by 11 months of world war.

Officials at the Department of Commerce declare that when the accounts are all closed it is certain that the balance will exceed this amount. "The figures for 11 months ending May 31," it was announced, "show a favorable balance of $83,115,479. As 13 ports which originally handle 90 per cent of the country's foreign trade show for June an export balance of approximately $80,000,000, it is now known that the excess of exports over imports has at this date exceeded $1,000,000, surpassing by nearly $400,000,000 the highest record heretofore made."

Figures indicating that the new high record would be made have been placed before President Wilson and the Cabinet from time to time by Secretary Redfield. Generally, the showing was considered all the more gratifying because it was made despite the paralysis of ocean shipping and stagnation in the cotton market, which depressed America's second most valuable crop.

Not Due to Munitions. Department of Commerce experts point out that the immense trade balance is not owing to orders for munitions of war, in fact, manufactures generally other than foodstuffs have been less than in the similar period before the war.

"The normal sales of manufactures during peace," said an official statement on that point, "were greater than those under existing war conditions. Because of this fact and the extraordinary shrinkage exports of crude materials it is found that the net increase in our total exports has been wholly in foodstuffs."

The movement of gold between the United States and the outside world which at the beginning of the war was a subject of great concern has been reversed in overwhelming ratio and represents payments for American exports.

"The inward flow of gold," says the department's announcement, "which became pronounced about the commencement of the current year, continued in May at an accelerated rate, imports amounting to $1,126,311, against $1,972,411 in May, 1914."

1908 Formerly Held Record. The nearest approach to the billion-dollar record was in 1908, when a favorable balance of $66,000,000 was shown for the year. In 1901 there was a balance of $64,000,000 and in 1913 of $62,000,000, while in 1914 the balance dropped to $40,000,000. The last time it showed against the United States was in 1902.

The business year of the Federal Government came to an end last night, with treasury officials still unable to determine how much of a deficit the accounts of receipts and expenditures for the last 12 months will show. Internal revenue officers throughout the country telegraphed that figures on the last day's returns would not be available until some time today.

The deficit yesterday, exclusive of the disbursements on account of the Panama Canal was well over $5,000,000, but officials were confident that the figure will be materially reduced. The income tax up until today had produced only about $5,000,000, but estimates of the total return from this source have agreed on something over $80,000,000. Congress amended the law so that persons or corporations who do not pay until July 19 are not subject to penalty and there is no way of telling how many are waiting until the last moment to pay.

CORONER EXONERATES MAN

WHO KILLED BROTHER-IN-LAW

Shooting Following Annoyance Over Baby's Cries, Held to Have Been in Self-Defense.

A coroner's jury this morning after inquiry into the killing of James Sturdevant, 30 years old, a switchman, by his brother-in-law, Roy Asher, at the latter's home, 2818 Goodfellow avenue, returned a verdict declaring that Asher shot Sturdevant in self-defense. Sturdevant was killed at 2 o'clock yesterday morning on the rear porch at the Asher home, where he lived. Asher testified he shot Sturdevant when he saw him raise an ax as if to strike him and that his brother-in-law had been drinking.

Mrs. Agnes Sturdevant, aged mother of the slain man, testified she saw Asher kill her son and that the latter was not armed. During the questioning, however, she admitted she was in the front room of the house when the shot was fired, and that the killing took place on the rear porch.

Mrs. Asher, wife of Roy Asher and sister of Sturdevant, said that at 11:30 she was sitting on the porch with her baby and Sturdevant. She said the baby began to cry, which annoyed Sturdevant. She said she knew he had been drinking and told him not to quarrel, but to go to bed. They went into the kitchen, she said, and there her brother threw a glass at her and then tipped over the washbasin and left the house.

She retired, she said, and was awakened by her mother, who told her of the killing.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop instructed the police to hold Asher until the Circuit Attorney's office could consider the testimony. The Circuit Attorney may take the case before the grand jury, despite the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Straight Hair Made Curly While You Sleep

By an entirely new and harmless method, the straightest hair can now be made beautifully curly "while you sleep." Not that the sleeping has anything to do with it, except to prevent loss of any of your precious time while the process is at work. You simply apply a little liquid salerine to the hair, using a clean tooth brush for the purpose. This, it seems, has the property of causing the hair to dry with a delightful wavy effect, as will be quite apparent in the morning. The effect lasts considerably longer than when a hot iron is used, and the curliness appears far more natural. You'll get a few ounces of the liquid salerine from your "cigarette" you will have enough to be hair to curl for many weeks. This, by the way, is excellent also as a dressing for the hair, keeping it bright and lustrous. It is neither sticky nor greasy—ADV.

All Germs Ordered To Beat it—Git!

Searching Influence of a Remedy That Works Wonders.

The introduction of S. S. S. is at once a command to blood impurities to find a way out.

And what are blood impurities? They may be hydraema found in the mucous linings of the body; they may be acid accumulations known as rheumatism; they may be boils, pimples, eczema, acne and stubborn, indolent sores.

But examined closely, they are all germs that have gotten the upper hand, and it requires the flushing influence of S. S. S. to drive them out. And out they go when S. S. S. begins to circulate in the blood. It only requires five minutes to begin this influence, for it is a fact that in this limited time S. S. S. may be traced in the perspiration, in the effluvia from the lungs to show that it is at work. Germs, mind you, are of various kinds, but all are foreign to health, and S. S. S. is no respecter of destructive agents; it drives them all out, of whatever name they go by.

Just get a bottle of S. S. S. and dry drug and soon you will observe a wonderful change. And if you're in a doubtful case, write to the Medical Adviser, S. S. S. U. S. MAY TAKE OVER SAYVILLE WIRELESS PLANT

Evidence of Alleged Violations of Neutrality Has Been Gathered.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The United States is seriously considering taking over the wireless station at Sayville, L. I., one of the two plants by which direct communication between the United States and Germany is maintained. The other station at Tuckerton, N. J., already is under Government control.

Evidence of alleged violations of neutrality at Sayville, notwithstanding the censorship conducted by the Navy Department, has been gathered by the Department of Commerce. Secretaries Rodolph Daniels and Lansing have conferred at length on the subject, and expect to announce their decision in a few days.

The belief of high naval officers here that the Sayville apparatus is powerful enough to communicate with submarines across the Atlantic, thus making possible the use of American territory as a base of hostile operations, is one of the influences in favor of controlling the Sayville plant. No evidence has as yet been gathered, however, to show that communication with submarines ever has been established.

Under a recent executive order President Wilson authorized the Navy Department to take over "one or more" wireless stations and conduct a commercial business, holding the net proceeds in trust for the owners. Both the Sayville and Tuckerton stations are privately owned, but the Department of Justice has upheld the legal right of the Government under a recent act of Congress to appropriate private plants in case of emergencies.

Originally it was possible for the Sayville station only to receive messages from Germany, while the plant at Tuckerton alone was able to send directly to the German coast. The addition of some high-powered instruments at Sayville, has made it possible, it is said, to equal the work of the Tuckerton station.

FIRST WIFE EXPRESSED WISH THAT HE MARRY HER SISTER

Hans Wachsmuth Testifies Also to Mrs. Wachsmuth's Gifts to Woman Who Became Her Successor.

Hans Wachsmuth of 6124 Berlin avenue, a lumber dealer, testified in a deposition taken yesterday before Special Commissioner Clifford B. Allen that his first wife, who is dead, had expressed the wish that he marry her sister, his present wife. The deposition was taken in the suit of the Noonan-Kodian Art Co. against Wachsmuth for $250 due on a bill for $700 for three oil paintings.

He admitted that he had purchased the pictures seven years ago from the art company, but he said he had given them and other articles to his first wife, who, just before she died, gave them and other articles to her sister, whom Wachsmuth married in March, 1913, six months after the death of his first wife. Wachsmuth said his present wife also has her sister's jewelry and books.

"She also wished me to marry her sister in case she died," he said. "She gave the articles to her sister on the evening she went to the hospital to be operated on."

Wachsmuth said he had not paid in full for the pictures because he did not have the money.

HOME ROBBED SECOND TIME

$100 Worth of Articles Taken From Maryland Avenue House.

The home of Mrs. Elaine Jones, 436 Maryland avenue, was entered between 5:30 and 6 o'clock yesterday evening, while no one was at home, and jewelry, silk stockings and other articles valued at $100 were taken. Silver, which had been wrapped was found on the dining room table, indicating that the robbers had been frightened away.

Mrs. Jones' Boston bulldog was locked in the kitchen and was heard barking fiercely a short time before the open door was noticed.

A Chinese laundry check, found on the floor, was dropped by the burglars. Mrs. Jones' home was entered in the same way in the latter part of December and $300 worth of jewelry and other articles taken.

Living Cheaper
 in Paris Now
 Than Before War

In nothing, and the word "nude" often appeared in their advertisements. Now a chorus girl does not have to reveal so much as an ankle in most shows, and improper dialogue is strictly censored by the producer himself.

Every revue has a British officer in khaki (generally played by a woman), a chorus of "Tipperary girls," a "pollu" or bearded veteran, and a Parisienne as she has become through the war. Except for a few classical dramas and a handful of modern plays, the stage deals only with subjects connected with the conflict.

After the theater one goes home to bed. There is nothing else to do but walk the streets, and to do that is to lay one's self open to suspicion. Montmartre is a morgue of moribund pleasure palaces. The cabarets are tightly closed; the famous Abbaye de Theleme, father of the tango in Paris, is the headquarters of a Suffragist War Committee. Evelyn Thaw's favorite Mont is gathering dust. The lid is on both "Hell" and "Heaven." Dancing is strictly forbidden throughout all France, and many professors of the new dances who showed an inclination to conduct their activities in secret were exiled.

Only one institution has been more completely paralyzed than Montmartre. That is the Opera. The huge structure so familiar to American tourists stands in tomb-like desolation. For some reason it is not used as a hospital. Recently I called upon its director, Jacques Rouché. In his anteroom dust lay thick. The hands of the clock were stopped at 8:20, and I wondered if that was the hour when Paris knew the war had begun. The calendar, one of the leaf-for-each-day kind, registered Aug. 3. "Opera is an article of luxury and suffers in consequence," M. Rouché told me. "I don't think we shall reopen until the war is over. People don't want to wear evening clothes, and care for music only when it is for a charitable purpose. Sixty per cent of our men singers and 85 per cent of our mechanics are with their regiments. After the war a great revival will come, but it will be years before Wagner is heard again in Paris. Perhaps we shall be able to produce some American works, and certainly our own composers will be very popular."

Marseillaise Has Become Sacred. The Opera Comique gives two or three performances a week, but the light pieces presented are secondary to the singing of the "Marseillaise" by Mme. Chénal. That taken on the nature of a solemn rite. Every Sunday afternoon the boulevard is thronged with wounded going to the Opera Comique to hear the national anthem inspiringly sung. One seldom hears the "Marseillaise" elsewhere. Its rendition, except in fitting surroundings, is frowned upon. Only the troops are permitted to sing it when they please.

Cabs of all kinds are plentiful in Paris. Those of the taximeter variety are as cheap as ever, but not quite as efficient, because for the most part their drivers are comparatively untrained and ignorant of the city's topography. In one of the revues a chauffeur is seen urging a prospective fare to take a horse vehicle or the subway because he doesn't know how to drive his taxi. The horses drawing cabs are a weakly looking lot, all good animals having been commandeered for the army. There is no regular bus line, the vehicles of that class also having been requisitioned.

Even the street cars and the underground railways provide a very fair service until 11 p. m. Few women compete with the elderly men who drive cabs or taxis, but on the "Tramway" (the Paris subway) "Wagner conductors and ticket takers abound. Mostly they are the wives or sweethearts or sisters of employees who had to quit their jobs at the mobilization. Their pay is slightly less than that of the men before the war.

Rents Considerably Lower. Even in the most central parts of Paris rents have fallen very considerably. For $60 a month one can lease in the most fashionable districts an unfurnished apartment that formerly would have cost from $80 to $100. Particularly plentiful are furnished flats belonging to Americans, and English, and these are obtainable in such sections as Passy and the American Latin Quarter, as the Montparnasse region is called, for from $30 to $40 a month. They would have fetched twice as much last July. Landlords are striving to keep rents up as much as possible, but the fact that so many tenants pay no rent whatever, taking advantage of the moratorium, has a depressing effect. Real estate is a drug on the market.

The art of shopping has undergone a marked transition. Nowadays one shops only for necessities. Establishments dealing in luxuries manage generally to keep open, but they do no business. Bargains in paintings, jewelry, antiques, porcelain and other objects d'art are many, and one can buy secondhand furniture at ridiculously low figures.

On the other hand, stores dealing in foods, clothing and household goods get along quite well. Prices are on much the same level as a year ago. If there has been a change it usually has been downward. The Parisian still feeds himself well. Spring vegetables fetch good prices, particularly asparagus. One hears that it is a better crop and cheaper than it has been in years. Strawberries are plentiful and no more expensive than ever.

The price of bread has never changed, but except in the hotels one seeks in vain for the crisp crescent rolls that once formed so delectable an adjunct to one's morning coffee. When mobilization began so many bakers were called to the colors to equalize the output that the Military Government forbade the baking of rolls or any kind of bread except the long French loaf. Subsequently that order was rescinded and any fancy variety may be made, but the bakers themselves have tacitly agreed not to bake "croissants," because at these rolls require more expert manufacture the bakeshop which has not been deprived of its master craftsman would have an unfair advantage.

INQUIRY EXPECTED INTO SPENDING OF $25,000 POOR FUND

Revelations of Use of Money
Without Bids Cause Comment
in East St. Louis.

Publication in the Post-Dispatch yesterday of the fact that the appropriation of $25,000 made last September by the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors for poor relief in East St. Louis is virtually exhausted and explanation of the lax methods which are blamed for the depletion of the fund is expected to be followed by an investigation.

The Board of Supervisors is to have a regular meeting Saturday and it is understood that one of the members will call attention to conditions in East St. Louis and urge that a committee be appointed to inquire into the expenditure of the funds there and devise methods of more business-like and economical administration of poor relief.

In any previous year, had it not been for the fact that coal dealers were able to obtain in excess of the coal delivered to the East St. Louis Board of Supervisors, the fund would have been exhausted long ago.

It is told at the Board of Supervisors that the coal delivered to the East St. Louis Board of Supervisors is not of the quality of coal and that the county money, which is used in the purchase of coal, is being used in other ways.

FORTY MINES ARE CLOSED BY STRIKES IN JOPLIN BELT

Shutdown Will Greatly Curtail
the Output of Zinc
and Lead.

JOPLIN, Mo., July 1.—More than 40 mines in Webb City and Joplin now are shut down, the result of the strike of lead and zinc miners. Those closed today were among the heaviest producers of the Joplin district and the week's output of ore will be greatly curtailed.
Three thousand or more men are out of employment.

A meeting here last night, the first held in Joplin by the strikers, was addressed by leaders of a movement to organize an independent union. A march meeting it also was agreed to march upon other mines at Joplin today, demanding that they close. Operators have predicted that if the strike continues there will be but few mines in Southwest Missouri operating by the end of the week.

The wages paid at the different mines have varied depending principally upon the working conditions at each mine.

One of the demands of the strikers is that wages through the district be standardized. If the demands of the miners are granted, wages at some of the mines, it is said, will be reduced.
A standard scale of wages which now is demanded follows:

Machine men, $4.75 a day; machine
helpers, $4.25; pump men, $4.25; powder men, $5.50; powder helper, $5; ground bosses, $3.50; superintendents, $7.50. The scale for shovellers is varied and dependent upon the ground.

This scale is based upon $50 a ton for zinc ore. A few mines in the Webb City-Carterville district are paying this scale and continue in operation.

ALIENATION SUIT AGAINST LULU GLASER IS SETTLED

Wife of Actress' Leading Man Ends
$50,000 Action Out of Court.

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Settlement of the $50,000 alienation suit brought against Lulu Glaser, the actress, by Mrs. Martha Richards, was made in court here yesterday. Miss Glaser was charged with alienating the love and affections of Tom Richards, her leading man.

The terms of settlement were not made public. The suit was filed in December, 1912.

Some time after suit was filed, Richards filed a suit for divorce in Denver,
but lost it.

CHECKS FOR BEER ALLEGED TO HAVE PAID FOR VOTES

Providence Men Also Said to Have Paid $5 to Others—
14 More Arrested.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 1.—Fourteen more arrests were made today in the election fraud case, all of today's defendants coming from the town of Coventry. They included Ellery Hudson, State Factory Inspector, and a member of the Republican State Central Committee; State Senator Irving Hudson; Deputy Sheriff Lowell Whitman, and James Rathbun, brother of one of the Superior Court Judges.

It is alleged in the indictments that the defendants distributed among the voters in the town on election day certain brass checks, redeemable for $5
each in payment for having voted as directed. Checks good for a bottle of beer were also passed out, according to the allegations.

Senator Hudson is accused of having given to another man on election day $100 to be used for the payment of votes.

'MISSING WITNESS' IN SALOON LICENSE CASES IS FOUND

Max C. Weber, "Scout" for Breweries, Served With Grand Jury Subpoena.

Max C. Weber, "scout" for the National and Empire breweries of the Independent Brewing Co., who had been designated as the "missing witness" in the recent aldermanic inquiry into Assessor Schramm's official conduct, was found yesterday afternoon by a deputy sheriff after a month's search and was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury next Tuesday.

The grand jury has heard testimony concerning the illegal methods by which saloon licenses have been obtained and new Assessor's and election office records have been altered to qualify signers of saloon petitions.

The Aldermen had postponed their hearing in the Schramm case for a week, hoping to subpoena Weber. They wanted to ask who referred six weeks ago as he was reported to have told a retiring employee of the Assessor's office, breweries have been paying employees of that office at the rate of $50 a name for placing names fraudulently on the Assessor's records, in cases where it was desired to qualify them as signers of saloon petitions.

Denies Making Statement.
Weber today let it be known that he could be found at the National Brewery, Eighteenth and Gratiot streets. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter there was no foundation for the statements that he had made such declarations to an employee of the Assessor's office and said he would not be able to enlighten the grand jury along that line.

He said he had been living at Valley Park since April and had visited the National Brewery daily, except twice,
when he was ill and when he had business in St. Louis County. He could not understand how it happened that the Aldermen's sergeant-at-arms, four deputy marshals and a deputy sheriff could not find him for a month. These officials, possessed of a subpoena for him,
had reported they had waited all day,
for many days at the National Brewery, and that Weber never appeared.

Knew He Was Wanted.
Weber said he had read in the Post-Dispatch that he was wanted as a witness in the Schramm case. He did not appear voluntarily, he said, because
"they were looking for me."

It was learned today that George Ziesing, who retired six weeks ago as a deputy assessor, was the man who told Aldermen that Weber had made the statement to him about breweries paying $50 a name. Weber said he had known Ziesing 16 years, had talked with him on the day he left office, and expressed regret at his departure, but had not made the statements Ziesing had credited to him.

SHELLING OF RHEIMS CATHEDRAL SAID TO BE WITHOUT REASON

British Commission Discovers That No French Troops or Guns Are Near Edifice.

PARIS, July 1.—A commission appointed by the British Foreign Office to visit Rheims and inspect the famous cathedral, which has been damaged seriously
by German artillery fire, arrived Sunday morning just after German shells had struck the building. The party included Owen Johnson, Arnold Bennett, Walter Hale and G. H. May. They picked up pieces of shells which had glanced off the walls and roofs. All agreed that neither French troops nor guns were anywhere near the cathedral.

It has been impossible to save the priceless stained glass windows in the cathedral because the erection of scaffolding would be necessary to take them down and the French say it might give the Germans the idea that the cathedral was being used for observation purposes.

CHICAGO BUILDING MATERIAL INTERESTS CLOSE THEIR PLANTS

Estimated That General Shutdown
Will Cost City $500,000 a Day—
200,000 Men Will Be Idle.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Gates were locked in Chicago's largest brick and lumber plants today as a result of a general shutdown in the building material interests. The plants will not be reopened. It was declared, until the 15,000 striking carpenters reach an agreement with the building contractors.

It was estimated that 200,000 men will be thrown out of employment by the shutdown.

Fires were withdrawn from 65 brick making establishments and 43 of the largest lumber yards were closed. The situation, it was estimated, will mean an economic loss to the people of the city of $500,000 a day.

34 ARRESTED IN A NEGRO CLUB

Thirty-four negroes, including four women, were arrested at 2 o'clock this morning by 12 policemen who raided the Alimenta Society Colored Club at 3123
Pine street after a sergeant was told by a negro that a gambling game was being conducted there.

No evidence of gambling was found by the policemen, but the negroes were held without bond at the Laclede Avenue Police Station for the Circuit Attorney. Capt. Johnson was puzzled about what to do with them when he learned the grand jury would not resume its gambling inquiry until Monday. The police said John Estes, who gave his address as 3133 Pine street, is manager of the club.

GIRL TAKES $800, JABS MAN IN EYE, TAKES TO WOODS

Contractor, 50, Accuses "Young Blonde," Who Had Been Riding in His New Red Auto.

Officials at Valley Park were roused from bed before 7 o'clock this morning by a man who had driven into that town in considerable haste to get a warrant for the arrest of "a young blonde" who, he said, had robbed him of $800, jabbed him in the eye with a hatpin, jumped from his automobile and taken to the woods.

The man said he was H. A. Anderson, a contractor of 2318 South Seventh street. He appeared to be about 50 years old. A badly swollen and discolored left eye lent considerable color to the hatpin incident.

She Left Him 30 Cents.

The man did not want to tell any more than was absolutely necessary to obtain a warrant from Justice of the Peace Jack Sturdy, charging
"Henel Doe" with assault with intent to kill. He would not say how long they had been driving about in a new red touring car, but he said they had breakfasted at a roadside this morning.

After breakfast, Anderson said, he had the chauffeur stop the machine so he could purchase some eggs and apples from a passing farm wagon. He reached to his hip pocket for his purse, he said,
and found his "roll" of $900 was gone.
He said he had 30 cents in another pocket, which he paid for the eggs and apples.

Then, he said, he accused his companion of having taken his money. She denied it, he said, and when he insisted she return the money, she jerked a pin out of her hat and stabbed him in the left eye. The hatpin pierced the upper lid and scratched the eyeball.

Begins Search of Hills.

The girl jumped from the machine and ran up a hill into some woods. Anderson ran after her, but was out of breath

and gave up the chase when the girl disappeared over the hill.

At the suggestion of Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Floyd Brooks, officials delayed two Missouri Pacific trains at Valley Park while they searched through the cars for the girl. Then Anderson, accompanied by Deputy Constable Forrest Rucker and Deputy Sheriff James McDermott, started out in his machine to search the woods and hills of the Meramec between Valley Park and Pacific, Mo.

Anderson apparently knew the young woman's name, but would not disclose
it. He said she lived on Chouteau avenue, was about 22 years old and was dressed in white.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

That School of Mines Building.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I should like to have Mr. D. R. Francis make a public statement in this paper, giving his reasons for the stand which he takes in regard to the matter of granting certain degrees at Rolla.

I take it that Mr. Francis is a man of intelligence, else he would not hold the responsible place on the Board of Curators, which he does. He should be able, if he is intelligent, to investigate things for himself and not merely to take the word of Mr. A. Ross Hill (a well-meaning gentleman, no doubt, but rather prejudiced when the School of Mines is concerned) as to the state of preparedness of the School of Mines to handle these courses.

I truly hope that Mr. Francis and Mr. Hill are sincere in their beliefs and that politics is in no way connected with this affair. It would be a great shame if two such honorable gentlemen were to trifle with the affairs of such a great institution of learning as our State University for purely personal reasons.

Very respectfully,
HOWARD E. LILLINGSTON, M. S. M., '15.

The Excess Rate Case.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to the rate cases recently decided by the Supreme Court, regarding the war, I am pained, I want to ask why was not the same procedure taken to collect used by other states, Arkansas, for instance, where the matter has been settled and claims paid? Settlement, however, of course, was greatly in favor of the railroads. Attorney-General Barker certainly used unheard-of proceedings. There has never been any doubt about the liability to refund.

G. M. M.

Arms Embargo Demand Unfair.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Answering Mr. L. H. Plehn's letter, published on the 25th inst., I, as an American-American, without any prefixes, think he takes an unfair stand in his assertions.

We have a very worthy President, who is much more informed than Mr. Plehn can ever hope to be, and I am sure that he has the undivided support of the American people, at least those who think of America first.

The assertion that we, by selling arms and ammunition to the allies, are prolonging the war, is based on the foregoing conclusion of Germany winning the war and that is a question to be decided and not by us changing the rules in the middle of the game.

Mr. Plehn, how about our British, French and Italian cousins and brothers? Do you suppose that only our German cousins and brothers are being killed? Why don't you address your letters to the German Government and request that they shut down the ammunition factories in Essen? That would end the war in a hurry and no more of our German relations would be killed. I realize the absurdity of such a proposition, but it isn't a bit more absurd or as unfair as for us to cut selling war materials to the allies at this stage of the game, when doing so would work to the advantage of the Germans only.

America is giving heed to the voice of conscience and is doing absolutely what is right and will continue to do so, regardless of consequences, and we can be thankful that we have such an able and noble President at the helm of the Ship of State in these troublesome times.

Respectfully, J. H. SCHMIDT.

How to Get a Million Population.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Annex the St. Louis suburbs. The time is ripe for such a movement, and I think the suburbanites would gladly join us. They would reap the benefit of our fire, police, sewer, water and gas systems.

WM. G. MUTH.

Rights of Neutrals on the High Seas.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Being an occasional reader of the Post-Dispatch, must say I am greatly disappointed with your editorial on the war, especially the one of Sunday, June 6, "What We Cannot Yield." The "Mirror of Public Opinion" is with you, but such opinion which is selected to back up your views is disappointing to lovers of truth and righteousness. Naturally, you cannot publish such splendid unbiased editorials in the "Mirror" as appear in the Chicago Tribune, which says, "There seems to be no reason why a satisfactory modus vivendi may not be reached by the two nations by reasonable concessions on our side as well as Germany's." Certainly public opinion does not favor either war or the adoption of any position incompatible with a just consideration of German rights and interests and an honorable compromise of legitimate differences."

A. C. GERMER.

THE CREUS SHOOTING.

Extraordinary circumstances mark the shooting of Frank Creus by Detective Bender.

Creus was a witness in a case against members of a gang of robbers implicated in the theft of an automobile in this city and a robbery in Fairfield, Ill. He had responded to a subpoena to testify in the St. Louis case, and after going to Fairfield to testify there he reported at local headquarters and repeated his promise to testify here. The police knew him, knew his address and could get him at any time.

The night before he was to testify Detectives Bender and Robinson went to Creus' home to question him regarding an article he was alleged to have stolen. Creus and his wife were in terror of the gang against whom Creus was to testify. He apprehended an assault and was armed to protect himself. The detectives visited Creus' home about midnight. Creus and his wife were asleep and on being awakened, so the story goes, mistook in the dark the detectives for members of the gang. In an exchange of shots Creus was seriously and Bender was slightly wounded.

Subsequently it transpired that one of the gang against whom Creus expected to testify was the son of a policeman and the charge the detectives were sent to question him about was trumped up. The police records show that another man some time previous was accused of the crime. Knowing where Creus lived and that he would be in court the next day, why were detectives sent to question him at midnight? What were the actual facts about the shooting which resulted in the dangerous, perhaps fatal, wounding of Creus? Why did Detective Bender shoot? Might he not have avoided the duel?

It is a strange case. The police accomplished precisely what the robber gang wanted. And under circumstances which marked their conduct as, at least, a stupid blunder.

The case should be thoroughly investigated. The investigation should not be left to the police alone. The Circuit Attorney should look into it.

A HARSH, BUT LOGICAL INFERENCE.

Judges, grand jurors, court officials generally manifest an unaccountable aversion to conducting themselves, or permitting anybody else to conduct such an inquiry into tax-dodging by the well-to-do as would assist in lowering the burden on the cottager. Is the cottager actuated by a too harsh and unjustifiable suspicion who draws the inference that the tax-dodging should also extend to Judges, grand jurors and court officials generally?

THE HUERTA CASE.

Most of our people are well pleased to be relieved of the necessity of interfering actively in Mexican affairs. Omitting the irreclaimable flingers and the promoters of oil and mining properties, Americans generally have but one sentiment toward Mexico, and that is sympathy, although it may be mixed at times with impatience. But we believe there is no difference of opinion in this country on the proposition that when we do act in that sorely afflicted region it should be with vigor and with consistency.

One scandalous result of Gen. Huerta's arrest and immediate release on bail was his ostentatious appearance in public with his "officers." Another was the lionizing to which he was subjected by all classes of people, including men of rank in the United States army. Still another was the crazy pursuit of him by representatives of the Department of Justice in automobiles, their avowed purpose being to prevent his "escape."

The ex-Dictator's mission in El Paso was either lawful or unlawful. If lawful, there was no more reason to interfere with him there than in the Long Island villa that he recently occupied. If unlawful he should have been dealt with as summarily, for example, as the sick, the incompetent or the vicious are treated almost every day in the year at Ellis Island.

On general principles, it may be assumed that Gen. Huerta has no legitimate business in the United States. In particular, he has no legitimate business in those parts of the United States that adjoin Mexico. We outlawed him during all the months that he maintained his tyrannical supremacy in the National Palace. Why should he be held in higher esteem now?

Today's developments in the court at El Paso are likely to be important. We took Vera Cruz without proceeding to a logical end, and we surrendered it without reason. We shall know perhaps tonight whether we have repeated that inconclusive performance in the case of Huerta.

The German Socialists have committed the Bryan act on the Kaiser.

MR. BARKER'S "GLORIOUS VICTORY."

Attorney-General Barker babbles of the "great victory in behalf of the people that has been won within the past 25 years." What is this victory?

It was gained when Mr. Barker's contention that he could sue for any amounts which you or I paid in excess for the railroads was smashed by the Supreme Court. The court holds, he says, that "every shipper and passenger in the State is entitled to recover every dollar paid in excess of the legal rate during this Federal injunction."

Any doubt that a person suing in his own behalf within the period covered by the statute of limitations and presenting convincing proofs could recover any sums he had paid in excess fare might have been resolved by consulting a member of the first-year class at almost any Missouri law school.

'O'DONOVAN, THE DYNAMITER.'

O'Donovan Rossa was a type of Irishman that would have delighted Thackeray, perhaps did delight him, for the novelist survived to years when the name of Rossa had become fairly well known.

After some years' negligible striving for a career, a fortunate conviction of treason in an age when treason was a brilliant distinction, supplied the dynamiter with the greatest single asset of his life. Thereafter, no other "professionals" Irishman ever waged war on England with greater ferocity and irresponsibility or blew up London bridge with finer verbal pyrotechnics from a distance of 3000 miles, than Rossa, pardoned and comfortably and securely settled in America. For the newspaper writers of a generation he personified the winsome hiatus often existing between savage promise and inconsequential performance.

That O'Donovan did nothing to advance Ireland's cause is not to be affirmed. That the frame of mind in which he normally existed, or seemed to exist, was possible in a human being may have convinced some Englishmen that Ireland really had wrongs that ought to be redressed.

THE ARMENIAN CASE.

Evidence so far obtained points to justification of the commander of the German submarine in the circumstances attending the sinking of the Armenian.

The submarine commander seems to have given ample warning and to have endeavored to avoid either illegality or inhumanity in torpedoing the ship, which may prove to be a chartered British transport.

The responsibility for the disaster appears to rest with the captain of the Armenian, who persisted in trying to escape after repeated warnings.

If investigation bears out this apparent justification, there will be a sense of profound relief and gratification in this country. It will remove the apprehension that Germany is indifferent to American rights, American demands and American opinion.

CHICAGO'S "SYMPATHETIC LOCKOUT."

The sympathetic strike, in which workers who have themselves no grievance quit to force a settlement of the demands of workers of other classes or trades, has its counterpart in the sympathetic lockout in which Chicago employers have mistakenly engaged.

The sympathetic strike has been severely condemned for its injustice to considerate employers and the innocent public. The sympathetic lockout is just as severely to be condemned.

A strike of 16,000 carpenters for 70 cents an hour began in Chicago May 1, and has attained partial success. Several thousands have returned to the employment of independent contractors, who conceded the new scale, but thousands more still remain out, awaiting an adjustment by employers of the contractors' organization.

To force these thousands to yield, a general shutdown of 246 plants engaged in the manufacture of products for the building trades has been decreed. Mill hands, lumber handlers, lime kiln and brick workers, teamsters and others, to the number of more than 200,000, who have been rendering satisfactory and loyal service, are to be deprived of work because there are carpenters who refuse to work.

The carpenters, who, believing their strike already won, refuse arbitration, are at fault, but their wrong is matched by the much greater wrong which the plant proprietors deliberately inflict on their own men and on the community.

Mayor Thompson, who forced a settlement of the traction strike, has a task cut out for him in devising means adequate to the lockout.

BUG RIVER.

The subject of the military operations on Bug River is a little too obvious to warrant our serious attention. Bug River sounds like Arkansas, but it really flows along the eastern frontier of Russian Poland, and the Grand Duke Nicholas is reported to have taken a strong position there, confronting the forces of the Kaiser. The spectacle of these two great war lords glaring at each other across Bug River is one of those matters which would be ludicrous if it were not so lugubrious.

Bug River marks the scene of the great war, and we think it supplies a fit and suggestive name for it—the Bug River War. Let it go down in history as such.

GETTING THE LIAR'S NUMBER.

Wonders never cease and the amazing genius of the great Munsterberg never lets up for a minute. Now Hugo is preparing to spring the sphygmograph on liars. As everybody knows, the sphygmograph is a machine for recording the pressure of blood in human veins. Hugo has made a thousand tests with it, and declares that it shows up a liar every time. He claims that a liar's blood pressure, which is about the same as an ordinary man's, that is normally 120, will jump up to 144 and even higher when he is telling a lie.

(Of course there must be exceptions to the rule, and the test would not apply to a man like Col. Roosevelt, whose normal blood pressure is said to be around 200.)

We have always known that something strange happens inside a man when he is lying. But nobody dreamed that the prickly sensation in the conscience which made a man feel like an ingrowing porcupine was due to blood pressure. In fact, we are a little skeptical about it yet in some cases. While it sounds like a reasonable diagnosis in the cases where liars turn red in the face, what about those who go deadly pale and exhibit symptoms of a white liver and break into a cold sweat? And what about the bloodless liar, anemic liar, cold-blooded liar, and chronic liar, the liar that is normal only when lying, and the liar that believes it himself?

And another point Hugo seems to have overlooked—telling the truth might conceivably raise the blood pressure. Telling the truth may be more exciting and require greater exertion than lying. (Come to think of it, this might account for Col. Roosevelt's high normal.) Sometimes truth fairly strangles. Local grand jury history recalls a witness who spat out his set of false teeth in the excitement of literally coughing up the truth. We are proud to affirm, yet without boasting, that fearless editors and expositors of truth constantly sense those tingling veins symptomatic of high pressure circulation and the exhilarating and inspiring consciousness of duty nobly performed.

May we hope that Hugo will use his little sphygmograph with some discrimination so as to avoid getting the full-blooded liar's number mixed with that of great martyrs to the truth?

A trench filled with German soldiers is said to have been captured by a British officer single-handed who had left his binoculars there. What the British army needs is not more shells but more binoculars.

THE NEW BRYAN PLATFORM?

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH by Clark McAdams

MR. ANTWERP ON THE GERMAN AFFAIR.

"WELL, the Germans have blown up some more Americans," Mr. Antwerp said.

"While we were watchfully waiting for the answer to our second note the German submarine U-8 slipped under a British merchantman with a cargo of mules out of Newport News and calmly sent her to the bottom, crew and all, just as if there had never been any exchange of notes between us, and Mr. Bryan were still peacefully plugging away in the office of Secretary of State."

"What might be termed the correspondence school of diplomacy seems to have suffered a very hard blow. While mules are plainly contraband of war and Germany has a perfect right to sink all the British ships loaded with mules she can find, the principle upon which we have lodged our protests remains the same and we must do something about our notes. Either they must be made longer or shorter, or more to the point, or firmer or something of that sort. The principle for which we are contending entitled the crew of that ship to a reasonable warning before the ship was torpedoed. Evidently, it didn't get it. It is unlikely that with any reasonable warning twenty-nine members of the crew would have drowned. The sort of people who sail with cargoes of livestock are a little too hardy for that. The Germans were at some pains to drown those fellows, or they tried to escape."

"Probably Mr. Bryan resigned because he saw we were not going to get anywhere with the Germans writing polite little notes. Nobody could see why he resigned after the second note was made public, but I think I see it. Probably anyone who is for peace at all hazards would like to resign this morning. The Germans are fighting for their lives. They have cast every rule of war to the winds. If they stop torpedoing merchant vessels without warning to their crews, it will be because they have to do it and not because some polite country asks them to do it. In the face of that certainty Mr. Bryan easily took to the brush. It doesn't matter about the tone of the notes. That probably did not affect his departure one way or the other. What he saw was the certain approach of the inevitable if we were going to stick for that principle. There isn't anybody else knows the inevitable when he sees it coming like Mr. Bryan. He has seen little else in twenty years."

When the opera company got in yesterday the manager asked Bill Smalley, manager of the theater, how the acoustic properties were. Bill said he didn't know, but that he'd ask Charlie Graybill, his property man, about them.—Caney (Mo.) Eye.

Country correspondents who continually chronicle the movements of the Smiths and Jones will err if the Blue Ridge Correspondent of the Calhoun County News, who can relate that "Frank Hazelwonder and Miss Uple Grandinger were Hardin callers Saturday."

BIG MUSIC BOOM AT WARRENSBURG.

Warrensburg is one of the most musical towns we know. Why the other night, when Creator's big band played there, 250 persons were within the paid enclosure and over 1000 others were listening just outside.—Cass County (Mo.) Leader.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

BEAUTY CULTURE.

A. B. C.—Water softened with ammonia or soda brightens light and golden hair, but as the effect is drying, it must be closely watched and abandoned at first indication of harshness. A harmless shampoo which saves hair from dandruff is made of 1 gill honey, 2 gills rhubarb juice, 1 pint white wine. Let stand 24 hours, strain and use as lotion, wetting entire hair; massage, wipe and leave to dry. To make hair firm, apply mixture of orange flower water 1 pint, distilled water 4 oz., tincture myrrh 1-3 oz., tincture benzoin 1-3 oz., tincture quillaia 1-3 oz., essence bergamot 1 dram, almond milk 1 oz., rectified alcohol 1 oz., essence pink 1 dram, powdered alum 30 grains. Use do not guarantee this.)

CLEANING.

J. M. R.—Tinture of iron stain: Make a thick paste of buttermilk and salt and cover stains with it. Lay in hot sun for a day, renewing paste three times a day. Wash and soak in buttermilk or lopered milk all night. Repeat process should traces of rust remain.

THANKS—To remove wagon grease, slightly moisten common laundry soap and rub on. Do not put fabric in water at same time. Coat spot thickly with soap, and leave three hours. Rinse out in cold water. (Equal mixture of turpentine and ammonia is said to remove paint spots, no matter how old.)

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

A. B.—A woman who fumigated a house full of bugs used 4 cubes of sulphur in a room 12 by 14 and it worked like a miracle.

SUBSCRIBER—To make blackberry juice "jelly" try boiling it to a syrupy consistency after adding half teaspoon vinegar to the quart of stock. In making jam or jelly, berries, whether the wild or cultivated variety is to be used, the fruit should be under, rather than over-ripe, or it will not "jelly." Put the berries into a preserving kettle and mash carefully to extract some of the juice. Let it heat very slowly and cook gently for half an hour. Then put the fruit in a jelly bag and press out all the juice. Measure, and for each pint allow one pound sugar. Boil the juice rapidly for 20 minutes. Then add the sugar (which should be made very hot in the oven without permitting it to scorch) and stir until it is dissolved. Put the kettle back over the fire, skim carefully, and let boil rapidly one minute. Pour at once into sterilized tumblers and seal the following day.

LAW POINTS.

K. J. E.—Any furniture or personal property may be seized for taxes.

W. C.—Unless the furniture belonged to the wife—paid for with her money—husband could sell it after their separation, without wife's consent.

L. F. S.—The auto law says: "No one shall drive a public, numbered, licensed or business vehicle who is less than 15 years of age." No "permits."

MAY—If your naturalization papers were filed within 90 days, you will have final hearing July 9; if later, you are likely to wait until September.

READER—As to serving of papers 2 days late in divorce case, see Circuit Court Clerk. Custody of child is matter for the Court, as is also the matter of costs.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. W. A.—You might try License Collector's office, city hall, for list of Ford owners or try Secretary of State, Jefferson City.

ANXIOUS.—Bicycle accessories: Lamp (oil, candle, or acetylene gas), bell for hand bar, wrench for tightening nuts and screws, oil can pouch, tire-repairing outfit, spare tire, tools to carry accessories and clothes, distance and speed indicators, etc., may be had.

H.—Mary Dillon, born Carlisle, Pa.; daughter of Rev. Dr. Herman Johnson (president Dickinson College, 1890-1894) (Clark) Johnson. Author: "The Rose of Old St. Louis," "The Old Bell," "The Leader," "Miss Livingston's Companion," "The Patience of John Morland," Methodist. Address, 4 Portland place, St. Louis.

TO ALL READERS—Please think what a task it is to read and write compliments and introductions. NEVER WRITE ANYTHING BUT THE QUESTION. Make that clear and unambiguous. Write initials as plainly as a typewriter would do. Address "The Post-Dispatch," and never write "editor" or "City Editor."

GOOD BOY.—(Supplemental: When the allied sovereigns visited Napoleon I. at Waterloo, the dress of none of the foreign soldiers seemed to have appeared to the Londoners so much as that of Blucher's troops, whose uniforms were of the blue shade of ferrocyanide of iron. An enterprising London dyer immediately produced in color any article of "Prussian blue," and the designation has survived to this day.)

W. A. T. S.—Present tense; past participle, got; present perfect, gotten. Gotten is not used by the best writers. The dictionaries mark it as obsolete. It has disappeared entirely from England and is rarely heard outside of the South in this country. It is an old form of the perfect tense of the verb to get, but now get is used for both the past and perfect form and gotten, like get, which was once permissible, has fallen into disuse.

RUBES.—Medium concrete mixture: 1 part cement, 2 1/2 parts sand, 5 parts gravel. This is used for foundations and machine foundations, piers, this foundation walls, abutments, retaining walls, sidewalks, heavy wall sewers. A lean mixture is composed of 1 part cement, 3 parts sand, 6 parts gravel. This should be used only for unimportant mass work, heavy walls, backing stone masonry and for large foundations supporting a stationary load.

STOREKEEPER.—For red ant, use kerosene, 5 cents worth dissolved in three saucers, mixed with cayenne pepper into a paste, or use shavings with carbolac or, or use pennyroyal or tansy, or try fly paper, or sprinkle saltpeter. Folio says: "I was much troubled with red ants, and one day while cleaning my cupboard accidentally upset a bottle of ammonia. I have never seen a red ant in the closet from that time to this and that was more than 15 years ago."

C. W.—On roses, sweet peas, shrubs, soapbuds will hold up well. Check. Best way to make is to take a half cake white soap in gallon of water, and when thoroughly dissolved, put on plants with spraying apparatus; the finer the spray the better. Kerosene emulsion is also efficacious. This can be bought ready prepared or you can make it as follows: Half pound hard soap, two gallons kerosene, one gallon water. The soap should be dissolved in boiling water and the kerosene then mixed in by stirring. The best way to do this, if you have a bucket-pump, is to put the end of it in the vessel containing the solution, and also put the hose into the vessel, pumping the solution through all through the pump. For use, dilute the emulsion by adding it to 20 parts water.

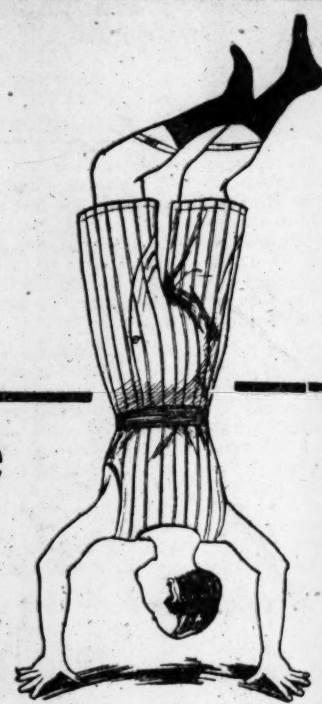

LAKEIN.—As late as the thirteenth century a Chinaman named Ye-Jin-Yang discovered a method of inducing the formation of pearls in the Chinese river mussels. The mussels were gently opened, and small pellets, usually of clay, inserted. The mussels were then fastened in about two or three feet of running water. At the end of two or three years they were taken out, when it was found that nacreous matter had been deposited on the small, forming pearls, millions of which were sold in China. The most curious pearls represent the form of a small seated image of Buddha. The figures are cast in this lead or stamped on tin and inserted in the mussels. Instead of the ordinary pellets, when covered with the nacreous matter they become objects of great veneration to the people, who pay a high price for them. With the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for mussels information.)

FISHERMAN CATCHES A CAT

When Joseph P. Borman, an Edwardsville Alderman, returned from a fishing trip last night, he was too tired and in too big a hurry to get to bed to remove a piece of liver with which he had baited one of the fishhooks. He had scarcely got settled comfortably in bed when a terrible yowling in his back yard brought him out.

A cat had snapped at the bait and the hook had caught it in the jaw. Borman was scratched severely as he freed the cat.

MRS. GEDDES SAYS ECCLES ASKED HER TO DENY RELATIONS

Mormon Requested, She Testifies, That She Assert That He Was Not Son's Father.

OGDEN, Utah, July 1.—That David Eccles, the multi-millionaire, who suddenly died two years ago, requested her to deny that he was the father of her son, Albert, and to place responsibility on a traveling man, was the substance of a letter dated Plain City, Utah, March 8, 1903, which Mrs. Margaret Geddes, on the witness stand again in the legal struggle over the Eccles estate, identified as having been written by her brother-in-law, Grant Geddes. When this letter finally reached Eccles, Mrs. Geddes stated, the financier upbraided her for making her relative aware of his efforts to free himself from being publicly accused of fathering a child whose paternity was part of a campaign to prove that plural marriages were being performed within the Mormon Church.

Mrs. Geddes said that Eccles had asked her to write a letter to him, which would convince the members of his family that he was not the father of Albert. She said she did not entirely comply with his request, but wrote a letter which indicated she would not then reveal the name of the boy's father to anyone, including David Eccles.

Albert Geddes or Eccles is plaintiff in a suit against the David Eccles estate in an effort to establish that he is a son of David Eccles, by a secret plural marriage. He is asking for a thirty-third interest in property, valued at more than $5,000,000.

The Board of Governors of the club includes 52 who are trustees for more than $2,000,000,000.

PRESIDENT WALKS IN THE RAIN

Puts on Rubber Hat and Coat for Stroll With Dr. Grayson.

CORNING, N. H., July 1.—Kept indoors by rain today, President Wilson spent the forenoon in his study with his stenographer.

No comment on the loss of American lives by the torpedoing of the steamer Arcturion by a German submarine was forthcoming, as the President was awaiting complete details of the occurrence.

After devoting several hours to official business, the President put on a rubber hat and coat and went with Dr. Cary T. Grayson for a long walk in the rain through the woods surrounding Harpenden House.

BILLION CARTRIDGES IN ORDER

The manufacturers refuse to accept the whole order, because it would disorganize their regular business to fill it, but are considering one-half of it.

POLICEMAN'S WIFE NOT DUPED

"Husband Injured," Swindlers Fall to Get Money From Her.

Mrs. Fred Gatterman, of 2013 North Market street, whose husband is a policeman in the Laclede Avenue District, reported to the police that two men called on her yesterday morning and informed her that her husband had been injured at Grand avenue and Olive street. They asked for $2, saying they wished to hire a private ambulance to take him to a hospital.

Mrs. Gatterman, having read in the newspapers how several South Side women were recently swindled by a similar scheme, declined to give the money and after their departure she called up the Laclede Station and learned that her husband had not been hurt. The men returned to the Gatterman home last night, but Mrs. Gatterman would not open the door.

BILLBOARDS ASK PUBLIC TO STOP MUNITION SALES

Campaign of Organization of Eastern Women Extended to St. Louis.

A hundred billboards throughout the city have been covered with large signs addressed to the American people, urging neutrality and appealing to the public to influence Congress to stop the exportation of arms and ammunition from the United States to Europe. The sign reads:

American Citizens: Uphold the hands of the President in his noble efforts to preserve peace by urging that Congress empower him to stop the exportation of arms and ammunition from the United States to Europe. The Organization of American Women for Strict Neutrality. Blank petitions ready for signature may be obtained free. Address Organization Headquarters, 1014 North 10th street, St. Louis, Mo. This billboard campaign was started June 1 in Eastern cities and gradually is being extended to other cities. In St. Louis the signs will remain posted a month.

Organization's Members Are Women of a Fashionable Baltimore Suburb.

BALTIMORE, July 1.—The Maryland Society for Strict Neutrality is an organization of women of Roland Park, a fashionable suburb. According to Miss Nellie Miller, the president, the purpose of the organization is to crystallize sentiment in favor of a national law to prevent the shipment of munitions to any belligerent. The membership of the association embraces women of German origin and descent and many pro-German sympathizers.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAXES FOR ST. LOUIS INCREASE $493,430.20

Larger Amount Due to War Tax Which Produced $1,722,228.75 Decrease in Collections From Corporations.

Internal revenue taxes from all sources for the Eastern district of Missouri, collected through the office at St. Louis, for the fiscal year ending June 30, aggregated $11,838,721.41, an increase of $493,430.20 over the collections of last year.

The increase in revenue was due to the war tax which went into effect last October and November and produced $1,722,228.75. There was a decrease of $285,124.41 in the taxes collected from corporations on their incomes. The total collections from that source this year amounted to $2,358,721.41.

The income tax collected from individuals amounted this year to $658,175.73, while for the ten months of the preceding year the collections amounted to $485,151.15. There is yet due from the corporations $11,722.22, and from individuals, $9,121.88. Unless the corporations and individuals in arrears pay up within 10 days they will be subjected to heavy penalties.

Tobacco contributed the greatest amount to the internal revenue. The collections this year amounted to $5,417,091.50, which is $497,323.48 less than was produced by the same industry last year. The beer tax amounted this year to $3,148,874.46, while the tax collections for last year were $3,538,048.75. The collections of the Internal Revenue office yesterday amounted to $460,000.

M. JIMSEY OF SPRINGFIELD HERE LOOKING AFTER GOVERNORSHIP

Publisher Comes to Confer With Republican Leaders About Being Candidate for the Nomination.

E. E. E. McJimsy, a newspaper publisher of Springfield, Mo., is in St. Louis today conferring with Republican leaders relative to announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor next year.

It is expected that Cleveland A. Newton of St. Louis will be the most formidable antagonist. Most of the Republican City Committeemen of St. Louis have been committed to Newton. C. C. Morris of St. Joseph, former Republican State Chairman, and Howard Gray of Joplin are also candidates.

Republican leaders are of the opinion that Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City will have no formidable opposition for the senatorial nomination, unless former Gov. Hadley should enter the race. Republican State Committeemen seem to favor Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts for the Republican nomination for President.

James Watson of Indiana, who had a following among the Missouri Republicans for the presidential nomination, has decided to run for United States Senator.

Making a Good Impression.

Is self-preservation. Observing men and the merchants' announcements appearing in the Post-Dispatch every Friday keep them informed on what men should wear to be neatly dressed. It is economical, too.

Submarine Is Refloated.

FRANCISCO, July 1.—The United States submarine H-3, which went on rocks, near Point Sur Light-house 115 miles south of here, was floated high tide late yesterday. Previous messages that she was undamaged were confirmed by radio message to local naval authorities.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

BUFFALO. July 1.—Two left-hand pitchers were on the fringe line for the first game of today's double header between the St. Louis and Buffalo Feds. WRAY'S COLUMN

Look for a Masterly Retreat.

WORLD'S lightweight fight champion Freddie Welsh will step into the ring at Brighton Beach Athletic Club, Saturday, with something of the same feelings the ordinary man might experience when called upon to denature a diamond-backed rattler with bare hands.

It will be the title-holder's task to neutralize the stuns that lurk in the left-hand wallop possessed by Charley White, the most dangerous puncher of the lightweight world today, according to some experts.

Freddie will be accompanied into the ring by one full-grown handicapper in the shape of championship, which he prizes highly because it has brought him close to $100,000 since he was a child.

With the title incumbent to stick, Welsh will be compelled to guard, duck, side-step and put up, the grandest little recent achievement since the fall of Lumbago.

For, come what may, Welsh MUST avoid a knockout, since that is the only way in which a title can pass in the coming contest—a no-decision bout.

Since White has won eight of his last nine bouts by the good-night wallop, it is reasonable to assume that Welsh's task is by no means the easy-money proposition it used to be.

It will also be guessed that the aggressive, whole-hearted fighting done by Welsh during the coming contest will not be enough to worry a paperweight.

Many Titles Pass in 10 Rounds.
TEN rounds is a short while to stay, most fans think. But against an aggressive boxer the gentleman who actually decides to stick around for the limit has his hands filled. In fact, if the truth be known, many titles have changed hands in less than 10 rounds' space.

Here a few instances in which championships have been won in less than half an hour of actual fighting.

Sept. 12, 1900—Terry McGovern defeated Pedlar Palmer of England; knockout in the first round, English bantamweight champion.

Jan. 8, 1900—McGovern stopped George Dixon, world's championship, eight rounds.

Nov. 28, 1901—Young Corbett stopped McGovern, featherweight title, two rounds.

May 12, 1902—Joe Gans stopped Frank Erne, lightweight title, one round.

June 10, 1904—Abe Attell stopped Harry Founds, featherweight title, five rounds.

Oct. 11, 1913—George Chip knocked out Frank Klaus, middleweight title, six rounds.

April 7, 1914—Al McCoy

SMITH TO TRY OUT WEINERT, 19-YEAR-OLD TITLE "HOPE"

Gunner, After Long Rest, Will Oppose "Kid" Heavyweight in Outdoor Contest.

By Robert Edgren, A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Tonight at Ebbets Field the Gunner meets Charley Weinert. This looks like the best heavyweight fight that could be picked from the bunch of heavies around here just now. Gunboat Smith says that he is back in his best form.

For a year or so the Gunner has had trouble with one of his hands. He is a terrifically heavy hitter and, like Fitzsimmons and all the other fellows who like to win with clean lefts, he has been bucking up a long rest have fixed the Gunner up, and now he's ready to fight them all.

Willard preferred must be given credit for having more confidence in himself than any of the other heavyweights. He fought Langford twice, taking the referee's decision in both fights. He fought Langford once, taking the referee's decision in both fights.

SPORT SALAD BY L.C. DAVIS.

Fifty-Fifty.

THE Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cards a double bill, ten innings went before it was decided.

We won the first and fondly hoped to make a double killin'. 'Twas not to be. For Slim Sallee went down before McQuillan.

Same Old Story.
THE Brownies lost another game. (That line, we'll just leave standing.)

But cheer up, there's no danger of our Brownies disbanding. For, though the cloud hangs like a sword, Don't give way to repining.

Row-Boys Buffaloes.
THE Terriers were Buffaloes. As Fielder Jones predicted: With lapses of the batting eye, Those Terriers were afflicted.

Were Buffalo's opponents: They shot the gaff into the air. Of medical exponents.

Random Squibs.
THE "Flying Dutchman" is still a pretty seaworthy old craft.

Little Hug round the battle-scarred old Buccaneers' second base and nearly came in his bulkhead, but he came out smiling.

Old Sal was digging holes for himself in the dirt, but didn't get one to his liking until the tenth, when he promptly fell in.

Cozy Dolan was among those present. Cozy starred in the role of coacher and spectator.

Manager Huggins declared himself in the second game, but didn't get into the game until the tenth, when he came out smiling.

Hammond Hyatt is a thinker of the slow and careful variety. Ham's specialty is in the line of strategy.

Welcome to Our City.
BRANCH RICKY and his promising prodigals are with us today.

The Brownies didn't exactly cover themselves with glory on their whirl around the circuit, but we understand they brought their uniforms back with 'em.

If the Brownies had stayed in Chicago much longer they would have been tripped out of the league.

Those White Sox certainly appreciate a good thing when it comes their way.

Should the Sox manage to get into the world's series the Brownies ought to look like a first-class prize money.

HUG'S RETURN TO HELP CARDINALS; WATT N' RIGHT

Benching of Long, Whose Arm Is Weak, Is Expected Before Cards Invade East.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Manager Huggins' return to the lineup, simultaneously with the improved pitching efforts of Sallee, Doak and Robinson, was sufficiently encouraging to send the Cardinals on a long road trip last night, with sanguine hopes of remaining potent factors in the pennant hunt.

Huggins probably will stay on the job and his presence in the box score will cause several important shifts. It is his intention to send Hyatt to right field, Miller to first and Butler to short as soon as he's convinced of his own ability to stick. Betzel will be given a further defensive game just now than Beck ever dared to do. He's surer on hard drives and has been hitting apace with Zinn.

The transfer of Hyatt to right field should help the Cards in a defensive way, for Ham has a better arm than either Dolan or Long. One thing sure: He couldn't have a worse one.

Weak Whip Handicaps Long.
Tommy Long's weak whip really cost the Cardinals the second game yesterday, 4-2, in 10 innings. Long transgressed in the second frame, when he permitted Wagner to score from third on Johnson's pop fly just back of first.

Wagner is wheeling into his forty-second year, and hasn't the speed of a beecher, but old Homer has been throwing ineffectively and surprised the faithful by bolting for the plate on what seemed almost a sure thing.

Long's throw reached Gonzales on the third hop and was wide of the plate besides.

In the series just finished, the Cards broke even with the Pirates in four skirmishes. With a tighter defense, the locals should have won all four games, but for some allowance must be made for the shifts that were forced on Hug because of injuries, and other eventualities.

Miller, who prospers anywhere, went to short in the second game yesterday because Butler complained of a sore ankle. Hug took up his old wistful air at second, and when Huggins that we wish to speak.

He never seemed to care for the wistful possibilities of the Cardinals, but the judicial use of the book, he is, nevertheless, a great ball player.

Work at the bat against McQuillan, who is no slouch of a pitcher, was worth the price of admission. Hug singled in the first frame and later delivered the winning blow.

It was his duel with McQuillan in the fifth that won the cookies.

Gonzales was on third water, but it was Hug who hit him, and Hug was the fifth that won the cookies.

Gonzales was on third water, but it was Hug who hit him, and Hug was the fifth that won the cookies.

College Teams Will Also Be Represented in Opening of Triple A's Big Feature.

When the Central States tennis tournament is started on the Triple A courts Saturday afternoon some of the best players from out of town will compete against the local stars.

Both these stars will try for leading honors in the singles while they will pair in the doubles. Ross and Johnson have made good showings in the tournaments held in the Windy City and are expected to give a good account of themselves.

In the coming tourney it also will be decided whether the Western College player has the edge on the Eastern star. Ed Tilton Jr., who during the campaign has been making a name for himself in his entry and will compete against Roland Horst and the others.

College Men Entered.
Hoerr, who is present in the Central States championship, is a student at Wesleyan University. Two other college players also have entered.

T. R. Munnellman, who played in the tourney here two years ago, is making a good showing for Farmington, Mo. The former of the two is a leading player in the doubles. Munnellman will play against the Omaha youngster, who also will play in the doubles.

Wills played in the first round Saturday. The courts will be in the best of shape for the tourney, and the time set for the opening now and the time set for the closing.

Kauff Peeved; Refuses to Play in Double Bill
NEW YORK, July 1.—Benny Kauff, the heavy-hitting outfielder of the New York Federals, who caused a baseball sensation earlier in the season by jumping to the New York Giants, refused to play in today's double-header with the Kansas City.

Kauff had a disagreement with Business Manager Carroll regarding the amount due him as salary from the Brooklyn Dodgers, and he would not engage in further play in the Federal League until financial matters were arranged to his satisfaction.

He watched this afternoon's games from the grand stand.

Some Clever Strategy.
With the call 2-2, Huggins signalled Gonzales to come in. It wasn't exactly the squeeze, because Hug had no intention of hunting; but Gonzales was running with the pitch. Hug then slammed a mean grounder at McQuillan, one of the great fielding pitchers of baseball. Gonzales was so near the plate that McQuillan was forced to make a hurried throw. It went wild, Gonzales scoring while Hug went to second. That should have won the game and would have only for Tee Long, who has a paper-mache arm.

But to see Huggins outgeneral McQuillan and bring home that run, working as he was under the handicap of having pitched to a single, for Wagner had stationed himself well over towards the foul line before McQuillan pitched one over the plate. Hug was on his feet, and he fouled off every good one. He deflected no fewer than four fouls before McQuillan pitched one over the plate. Hug was on his feet, and he fouled off every good one. DECREASE IN JUNE BRIDE Licenses Issued to 923 Couples 1 Month as Against 1066 Last Year.

The records of the marriage license bureau in St. Louis show that 923 couples obtained licenses in June, a that maybe the decrease in marriage was due to the lack of prosperity. In some of the other cities where there has also been a decline in the licenses issued, the decrease is attributed either to lack of sunshine in June, or to war or bad business.

in Kansas City, St. Paul, Denver, Dallas, Springfield, Ill., and other cities there was a falling off in marriage licenses. Only Milwaukee and Des Moines of the western cities, showed an increase in licenses over last year.

THE POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

STEEL PRICES
MARK TRADING
IN SECURITIES

Buying Demand Is Light, but Offers on Declines Are Well Taken.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review, today says:

The stock market's movement of the day was negligible. It had no chance to "reflect" the torpor of the Armenian, for news that a British Admiralty ship came before yesterday's market had closed. Prices moved irregularly, within narrow limits, and with generally unimportant changes. London continued to sell our bonds at the past week's average rate of about $200.000.

"One more or less interesting incident of the day was the wheat crop estimate of the best-known Chicago private expert, in which the harvest indication was actually raised 3,000,000 bushels above the forecast of a month ago.

"Exchange on London dropped back a cent, following a report that the convertibility of the pound sterling was being considered by the government. The bankers were inclined to ascribe both the violence of yesterday's late advance, and the promptness of today's reaction to the action of purely speculative holders. Sterling is in fact as homebound just now with speculation as the stock market in April or the wheat market in February. When the bears on exchange are frightened into covering a very sharp advance ensues and when they have closed out their contracts a good part of it is lost.

Export Excess Is Large.

"Returns of the country's foreign trade in May (published about a day behindhand by our distillery department) are in many ways remarkable. The Department's weekly statements during May, of excess of exports at ports supposed to cover 90 per cent of our outward trade, showed an excess of about $1,000,000 for the month. The actual export excess in May, which is $2,000,000 above the largest previous May record. Exports alone were about $2,000,000 under the forecast of a month ago.

Cotton Advance Is Reduced.

"The Government's estimate on the cotton crop in acreage and condition will evoke mingled feelings. The cotton belt itself is making a recovery sufficiently from the despair of the first five months of war time, to give up its original claim of making a record unless this year's cotton yield were to be had. The cotton crop is wavering during the early spring, in its lower estimate of a 25 per cent reduction in acreage, and some of the since began to unite in predicting only 15 per cent curtailment from the acreage of 1914.

The present figure, 31,535,000 acres, is a 25,000-acre short of last year's planting. It is the smallest since 1905, but is well above the average of that and the few preceding years. Allowing for this difference, and for the fact that the Government's "condition percentage" of today is a fraction of the condition percentage of a year ago, the so-called "arithmetic" indication of the yield would work out something over 15,000,000 bales, as against last season's 15,500,000. Even so, the crop of 1915 would exceed that of 1910 or 1905.

It will never be possible to know whether this year's reduction in acreage would not have been considerably less, but for the fact that the very high grain prices, at the time of a low cotton yield, had been a powerful inducement for putting a good bit of last year's cotton land into wheat and corn.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, July 1.—Latest foreign developments contributed today the heaviest trading. Sinking of the steamship Armenian, involving further loss of life and property, revived fears of renewed tension with Germany. Consistent of the numerous speculations, while Reading, Union Pacific and General Electric were the most active. There were extensive offerings of United States Rubber, in which dividend action is to be taken. The stock of the company, which had been a small fraction of a share, advanced 3/4 point on the increased dividend. The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCardell

Mr. Jarr Mistakes His Humble Home for an Elevator Flat in Paradise.

"THERE was a block on the line," said Mr. Jarr, "and that's why I'm late."

"Oh, it doesn't matter, dear," replied Mrs. Jarr cheerfully. "The butcher didn't send around the steak till just a few minutes ago, and so you haven't delayed supper."

"I got out and walked," Mr. Jarr went on. "I was told afterward that the block didn't last but a few minutes, and I would have been home pretty near on time if I had been patient. But one never knows how long they'll last, so I walked home."

"Are you sure you didn't stop in anywhere?" asked Mrs. Jarr, archly.

"I'm on the water wagon, you know," said Mr. Jarr. "But I went into a place with Rangle and another fellow and we threw dice for the cigars for a while—at least, that is, I took cigars."

"Were you lucky?" asked Mrs. Jarr.

"Never won once," replied the good man.

"Well, you can't be a winner all the time, you know," said Mrs. Jarr. "Mr. Rangle told me once you hardly ever lost a bet. Wait till I see how dinner is getting on," she added as she left the room.

"I wonder what's the matter with her," said Mr. Jarr to himself, as he knelt his brow in a puzzled manner. "She's too sweet to be wholesome. There's some scheme on foot!"

Mrs. Jarr returned at this, asking Mr. Jarr not to be cross because supper was late. "I know you must be hungry by this time," she said, "and it is so nice of you to be sweet about it."

"I rode uptown with Mrs. Kittingly," said Mr. Jarr. As a general thing he never told his wife when he met up with good-looking women—not that Mrs. Jarr was jealous at all—but then:

"How did she look?" asked Mrs. Jarr, curiously.

"Fine!" said Mr. Jarr, trying to see how far he could go. "She was getting into a taxicab to come home, but I called to her from the car and she let the cab go."

"That was nice of her; it made company for you," said Mrs. Jarr. "I always did say that Lily Kittingly was a stunning looking woman, and she's such good company."

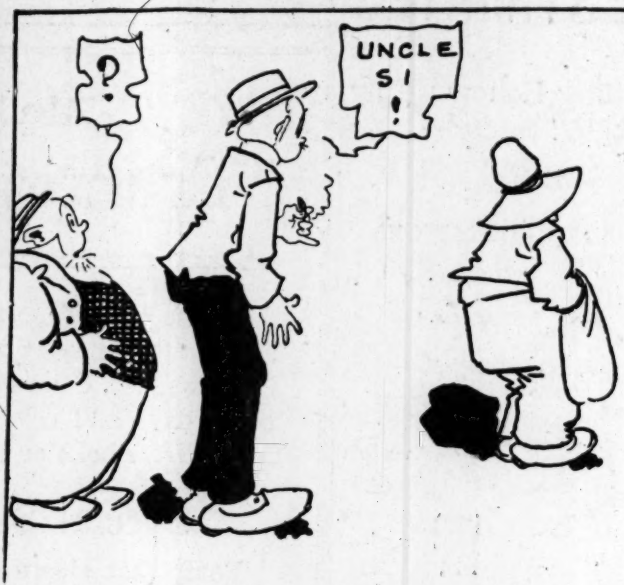

"She's a peach, all right, all right!" said Mr. Jarr.

"We must have her to dinner some night. I don't care what people say about her," said Mrs. Jarr heartily.

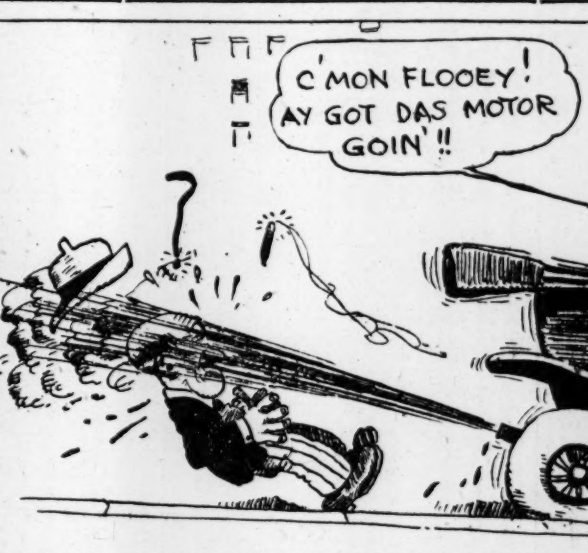

"I'd rather dine with a pretty and pleasant sinner—although I don't say SHE is a sinner—than with stupid and sour-faced prudes!"

At this surprising outburst Mr. Jarr

S'MATTER POP?

Flooey Has No Right to Kick—It Was His Own Idea!

stood gaping. Then the servant announced that dinner was ready.

"The steak's tough," said Mr. Jarr.

"So it is," said Mrs. Jarr. "But here's a piece of the tenderloin; it's a little better. I'm sorry dinner is so late and that the steak isn't good. Some men would make a big fuss about it, but you take everything so good-naturedly."

Mr. Jarr blinked at this, but thought it time to find out just what was the matter.

"I see the stores are advertising some pretty dress goods," he said. "I suppose you'll be getting some new gowns?"

"I don't think I need a thing," said Mrs. Jarr placidly. "And if I did need anything I'd wait a little; the summer styles are always over-emphasized and too pronounced and conspicuous. At least I think so."

Mr. Jarr almost had a fit for a moment, and then he said: "I'm going out for an hour or two to play penché at Gus', on the corner. You don't mind, do you?"

"Of course not," said Mrs. Jarr.

"Why do you always ask? You don't think I object to you going out and having a good time? I'm sure you deserve some recreation—working all day in that stuffy old office!"

Mr. Jarr pinched himself to see if he was awake. "I may be late," he said.

"All right," said Mrs. Jarr cheerily. "I have a good book I want to read; stay as late as you like."

But Mr. Jarr was so nervous that he couldn't remember the run of the cards. And after half an hour of desultory playing he announced that his wife was home and not feeling well, and he'd go and keep her company.

"There's something coming off," said Mr. Jarr softly to himself, "and I wonder what it is!"

But nothing was coming off. Occasionally ball clubs, race horses, billiard players and wives display strange reversals of form—considering past performances.

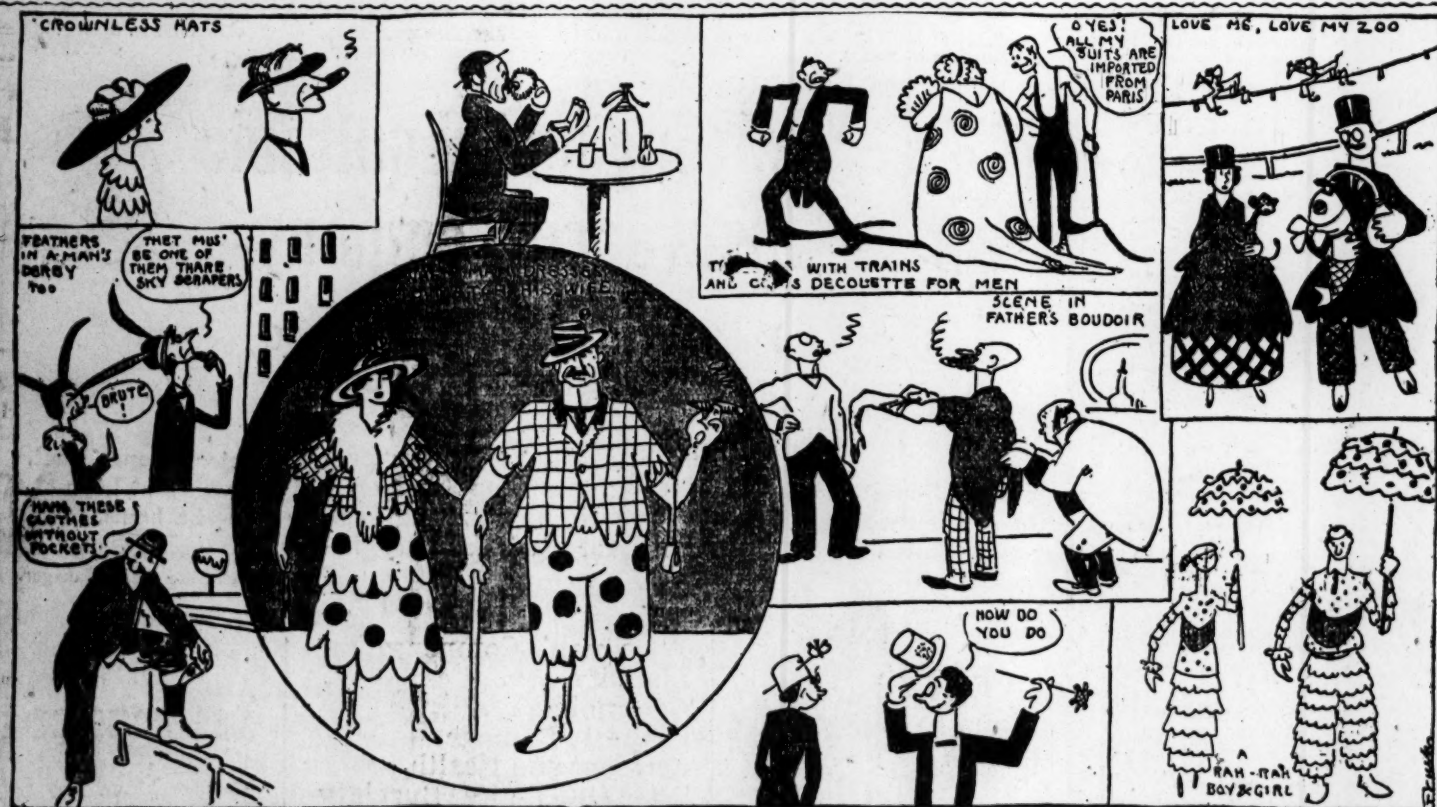

"AW, YUMP IN! YOU CAN TALK WHILE VE BANE RIDING!"

"SAY—LISTEN!"

The latest fashion hint is that men should dress in harmony with their wives. These following designs are intended to help the hint along.

The Modern Way.

AND have you learned to make bread yet, my dear?" asked John's mother of Mrs. Newlywed.

"Yes, mother. It's very simple. You mix everything according to directions, then set it to rise on the back of the range, say about two good, full rolls at the movie house corner, and then come back and slip it into a very quick oven."

Hot Stuff.

NBODY appreciates me," said the unpopular man. "It will be different when I'm dead and gone."

"Yes," replied his neighbor. "I've no doubt you'll get a warm reception then."

Vanity makes a man an easy mark for flatterers.—Albany Journal.

In Safe Hands.

THERE is a certain Ohio Judge whose wit has enlivened many a dull case. On one occasion counsel made in his court this statement on behalf of a plaintiff of somewhat bibulous appearance:

"My client, your honor, is a most remarkable man and holds a very responsible position; he is manager of a waterworks."

After a survey of the client his Honor replied:

"Yes, he looks like a man who could be trusted with any amount of water."

No Long Term Wished.

MAY I say just one word before you impose sentence?" asked the street railway magnate.

"Well, what is it?" snapped the Court.

"Please remember, your Honor, that you are imposing sentence and not granting me a franchise," he cautioned, fearing for the worst.

Left What?

MRS. SMITH has a million in her own right.

Light and Shadow.

WAS there anything unusual about the contracting parties to that wedding?

"No, just the usual bride and groom."

"Puck."

What More Could She Ask?

"Do you realize that the film we saw tonight cost ten thousand dollars to produce?"

"I know it cost you only a dime to take me to see it."
